A black and white photograph showing a group of students and a teacher gathered around a table in a library. There are about ten people in total. A man, presumably the teacher, is seated at the head of the table, looking towards the students. Several students are seated around the table, some looking at books or papers. Two students are standing in the background, also looking at a book. The room is filled with bookshelves, indicating a library setting. The overall atmosphere is one of focused study and collaboration.
